

Safety Management Policy

Geonewmedia is an experienced video production company where employee safety and wellbeing is embedded as a core value. Our key objectives is to establish and maintain safe and healthy workplaces and efficient systems of work leading to the safest possible environmental under which our employees operate. This policy provides the foundation for our commitment to the following objectives:

- Provide strong leadership and commitment to ensure the embedment of safety and health as core value without yielding to pressures from any source.
- Provide training and competency development for all employees so that the necessary skills are maintained throughout video projects.
- Build and maintain a team approach to safety by utilising consultation and open two-way communication with employees and sub-contractors.
- Promptly report incidents, unsafe practices or conditions that become apparent.
- Protecting the environment and respect our natural resources.
- Involve and communicate openly with clients, sub-contractors, suppliers, regulatory authorities, and where appropriate communities, involved with or impacted on by our operations.
- Demonstrate compliance with relevant laws, regulations and standard applicable to the industry in which we work.
- We aim to achieve best practice in health, safety and environmental performance that goes hand in hand with our vision of being the preferred provider of quality video productions services throughout Australia.
